About Alanya:

Alanya is a holiday resort located on the south coasts of Turkey with its popular and still-breathing ancient history.
The city's unique, natural and blue flagged beaches lie along the south shores.
The summer passes by quite hot, leaving no decent rain while the winter is warm and rainy in this city, where you can feel the Mediterranean climate's soft touch on your skin.
In winter, the air temperature is 14°C while the sea's is 18°C and in summer, the air's is 27°C while the sea's is 25°C on average.
Toros Mt, with their heights exceeding 2 thousand meters, look like a coat sewed with snow.

There are 20 rivers flowing from the top of mountains to Mediterranean Sea, carrying the melting snow as water in the fresh time of spring.
